we were cousins but always referred ourself as sisters we were 7 mo apart and my first word when they showed her to me right after she was born was "a baby" (I've been told). when we were little I would say "I take care of Patty i take care of Patty" in this case I wasn't able to take care of her but I know that Jesus is and she is now in the arms of our Lord. She has a brand new set of lungs and already she has her mom, our grandparents and others up there laughing. Just be glad you never took a cruise with her. I love you and save me a place up there beside you so we can share some more laughs.

Brook, We had do much fun with your mom I think of so many good times we had with her. Lately I have been sitting back and thinking of all of the things we did with your mom. I remember she would burst in your room and sing to you the " I love Brook song" I don't know if you remember that but it sticks out in my mind. I do remember that laugh of hers... I remember sooo many good things. So many good stories. I am lucky to have had her in my life. Now she needs to rest but we all know she will still be watching over us.

Danielle, I do remember that and I remember I had that crazy song I would sing all over the house to her "I love my Mommy" She was a hot mess in the very best way possible. Im happy she had such a positive impact on your life, that would make her proud. Thank you for the sweet words

I will always be able to hear her laugh! She snuck (allowed) me on my first date when I was staying with her. Hehe. She didn't want Sheldon to know :). I thank you for all she did for me when I didn't know how. Very kind and giving. Loved her children and grandchildren and bragged about them wonderfully. Most of all I am elated to know she found God and is dancing with Jesus and her laugh will carry on in Heaven. Love you and will miss your post and pics and loving words.
