I am going to miss those letters and stories you told to us. Here is one that I remember: I really tried reading you letter with my eyes closed as you suggested but it was harder to read that way, also thanks for writing it slow, like you said you were not sure how fast I could read, but next time if you want to write fast that is okay! I guess that is the same as me saying I was going to enclose $100 in this letter but I realized I had already sealed the envelope or you will not recognize the house when you come visit, we moved.No we did not move and no there is no $100 in this letter. Just to clarify.You will be missed so much Dad, but you have gone to a better place. Love you.##imported-begin##Gary L. Guy##imported-end##
