Carol was one of those rare people who always left you feeling better for having shared time with her. I'm thankful I was blessed to have known her and shared a piece of our journey as friends. She will be sadly missed by all who knew her. May her family find comfort in how much she loved all of them, and that love is eternal.##imported-begin##Cheryl Longyear##imported-end##

The Dash Poem by Linda Ellis I read of a man who stood to speak at the funeral of a friend. He referred to the dates on her tombstone from the beginning to the end. He noted that first came the date of her birth and spoke the following date with tears, but he said what mattered most of all was the dash between those years. For the dash represents all the time that she spent alive on earth. And now only those who loved her know what that little line is worth. For it matters not how much we own; the cars, the house, the cash, what matters is how we live and love and how we spend our dash. Carol, my dear, dear friend and mentor, Thank You for everything you are, loving, caring, supportive, non judgmental, funny, courageous, etc. I could go on, but those who were lucky enough to be part of her dash, know the rest. Thank you for the laughs and all that you've taught and shared with me. You cared, shared your experiences, comforted me, supported me, and gently let me know when I was veering off track, then guided me back. I have grown so much with you and smile every time I think of you and feel your presence still. I love you and am missing you so much. I am so grateful for being part of your dash. Love, Sheryl Cousins

I'm so grateful that Carol moved to Lake county, so we could stand in the presence of her serenity. She was an encouraging and playful friend. The world is a better place because of her and I will be telling stories of her love and caring spirit for the rest of my life. I can't wait to meet some of her family and friends this evening, to learn more.##imported-begin##Irene Chandler##imported-end##

Dear Carol, Thank you so much for being a best friend to my wife and I and for being in our lives for the last 18 years. God puts angels in our lives to guide and love us as we go on our journey in this life and then keeps them ahead of us to show the rest of the way we need to go. I am so grateful to have had and still have my little angel Carol in the back of my heart to constantly show me that no matter what happens in life, acceptance is the answer. We miss you and you will always be in my heart and in Kate's. We love you and you will be sorely missed physically, but we know you are still with us always.
